HISTORICAL

Louis Hennepin, a Franciscan friar, sent by La Salle with Michael Accault, to explore the upper Mississippi river, discovered St. Anthony Falls in 1680. In 1805 Lieutenant Z. M. Pike secured for the United States government from the Dakota Indians a grant of the tract of land near the falls, which included the present Fort Snelling reservation and the greater part of the present area of Minneapolis.

In 1819 a regiment of infantry took possession of the mouth of the St. Peter (now Minnesota) river, and three years later a mill was constructed on the west side of St. Anthony Falls for the purpose of sawing lumber for the use of the garrison. A few years later millstones were added for grinding corn.

The first dwelling erected by white men on the site of Minneapolis was a log house, built by Samuel H. and Gideon E. Pond, two missionaries, who took up their work in 1834 in the Dakota (Sioux) village, which was located on the east shore of Lake Calhoun. Claim shanties of pioneers began to show themselves on the east side of the falls about 1836, but settlement did not begin in earnest until 1847, when a village grew up and the next year was platted as St. Anthony. The Town of Minneapolis, on the west side of the falls, was incorporated in 1856, and soon outgrew, and in 1872, absorbed St. Anthony. The name is partly Dakota and partly Greek. It is a contraction of Minnehaha-apolis—the city of Laughing Water.

In 1855 a great stream of immigration began pouring into Minnesota, and Minneapolis grew rapidly. From a lumbering town it developed into a great milling center, and power furnished by the falls has since turned the wheels of the largest flour mills in the world.

After the Civil War railroads began to creep over Minnesota, and manufacturing industries and wholesale business increased by leaps and bounds.

The City of Minneapolis was incorporated under an act of the Legislature approved February 6, 1867. Dorilus Morrison was the first mayor. The city was divided into four wards, represented by the following aldermen: First ward, William H. Gaslin, Henry Oswald and F. L. Morse; Second ward, Hugh G. Harrison, S. H. Mattison and N. B. Hill; Third ward, George A. Brackett, R. Price and O. B. King; Fourth ward, Isaac Atwater, F. R. E. Cornell and G. Scheitlin. Other officers were: Thomas H. Williams, city clerk; D. R. Barber, assessor; H. H. Brackett, chief of police; S. H. King, city surveyor, and Charles E. Flandreau, city attorney.

The question then being on the motion of Alderman Rendell, as submitted, it was adopted.

Following is the address of the Mayor:

To the gentlemen of the Minneapolis City Council:

We are here to do the will of the people.

The mandate from the people in the recent election is clear, emphatic and unmistakable.

They want a better government from this Council than they have been having, and unless they get it the wrath will fall again upon the members who are delinquent.

The people did not see fit to make any change in the Mayor's Office after my second term, and I feel free to discuss these matters openly.

Every one is tired of extravagance, and they do not want to see this constant bickering of one ward against another. They want to see the greatest good done for the greatest number and they want to see one hundred per cent returned for every dollar expended.

The big question with every voter is the question of taxes, and whether or not his money is being wasted. The people do not forget as soon as some politicians believe, and the people showed in the last election how quickly they can scrap a Council that is fooling itself that it is on the high road to success.

It is my belief that we are working under a difficult form of city government, but it is all the people have given us to work with and under the law we must do with it the best we can. The fact that it is difficult does not render it impossible for men to get together and to give a good government that will mean progress.

It has been a popular belief and a common expression "that the Mayor of Minneapolis appointed a Chief of Police, a Welfare Board, et cetera, performed a few minor duties, and otherwise his office was honorary."

This is a mistaken idea. Great good can be accomplished for Minneapolis if the Council and the Mayor work in harmony. The Council and the Mayor should co-ordinate and co-operate.

My chief pledge today to the people of Minneapolis and to you gentlemen is that I desire to work with you always for the good of Minneapolis. I have no personal axes to grind, and I am free to act as each situation warrants.

Minneapolis is on the eve of its greatest era of development since it became the metropolis of the Northwest. There has been a great deal of talk about industrial expansion, and we need that expansion, but we must not lose sight of the fact that along with this development we must see that our schools, parks, sanitation, health, and the moral advancement of the city keep step with that progress, Minneapolis must always fight to maintain its first place as a city of homes.

We have many wonderful industries in Minneapolis at the present time—industries that are serving the people of the world, and that have brought fame to this city. We can do no better in our plans for the future than never to lose sight of the fact that our present industries must have our first attention, and that the seeking of new industries must be along constructive lines, and not with the idea of destructive competition.

Minneapolis has grown tremendously during the last sixty years—from nothing to the sixteenth city in the United States in size—without a single so-called "boom." People return from Florida, California, and other parts of the country with stories of financial, real estate, and business frenzy, which we need not look forward to in Minneapolis, nor is it necessary. We will be better off to devote our energies along the same soundly progressive lines that have characterized the policy of the builders of this city from the beginning.

The railroads which are the arteries of our commerce and which have suffered severely in the last ten years are doing much better now, and this indicates a healthy condition.

Well informed men and experts say that the crop in the Northwest this year will be very large and that it will equal the crops of 1915 and 1916, if it does not surpass them. The prices of grains are very fair and will bring an excellent profit to our farmers. Industries in general are thriving, and many new ones are coming into our city; the prospects for a great development along this line were never better.

Our basic conditions in the Northwest have never been brighter, and our national government under President Coolidge is as sound as the Rock of Gibraltar.

Minneapolis is fortunate in that her business men have started a systematic industrial program. Capable men, among them Ex-Governor Preus, have been selected for this work, and they will do their part to help bring about the things that are on the horizon for Minneapolis.

The only way that we can make the most of these conditions is by working closely together. I believe that the various interests in Minneapolis have not been as closely knitted together for many years as they now are.

A more and more comprehensive plan for all public improvements, such as paving, schools, police and fire departments, should be worked out, and acted upon.

The mandate is very clear, and I hope that when the people speak again no one will be found in the delinquent class, because the people are final, and they know how to act in Minneapolis when things are not right.

It is my earnest desire to work with you, and especially to do what we can to control the tax situation, that in the end we may get the most for the people's money. I am at your service at all times; in the past four years I have had to stand too often in the breach against a hostile Council, as the minutes of its closing hours will indicate—instead I hope you will permit me to put my shoulder to the wheel, pushing forward in the progress of a greater Minneapolis.

George E. Leach, Mayor of Minneapolis.

From His Honor, George E. Leach, Mayor—Notice of reappointment of Frank R. Cullen as Secretary to the Mayor for the ensuing term, and requesting confirmation.

Alderman Fruen moved that the appointment of Frank R. Cullen, as Secretary to the Mayor for the ensuing term, be and it is hereby confirmed.

RESOLUTION
(By Alderman Ryan)

On the death of John Hayes.

Resolved by the City Council of the City of Minneapolis:

That the accompanying statement in memory of John Hayes, Commissioner of Streets of the First Ward of the City of Minneapolis, be and the same is hereby adopted and made the expression of this Council.

In the death of John Hayes the City of Minneapolis loses one of its employes who has been closely identified with the building of the First Ward and of the city for a period of time covering a quarter of a century.

John Hayes was born and raised in the First Ward and served as Street Commissioner of this ward for a long period of time, his death occurring June 21, 1925. During his many years of public service as Street Commissioner of this city he served the people honestly and conscientiously, and no public official ever served the people more faithfully or with a higher and truer conception of the destiny of the ward and city. He was a man whose word was always good, a true and dependable friend and faithful official. He was noted for his extreme kindness and generosity to the poor and needy, irrespective of creed, color or race. His hardest task was to refuse aid or assistance to those in want.

In Mr. Hayes' death the City of Minneapolis has lost a valuable and faithful servant, and while deploring his loss, we appreciate the fact that the greatest benefit received by the city in his work and efforts is lasting and permanent.

We extend to his relatives and friends our sincere sympathy in their irreparable loss and desire that these resolutions be spread on the minutes of this body and that a copy be sent to his family.

Passed July 6, 1925. O. J. Turner, President of the Council.

Approved July 8, 1925. O. J. Turner, Acting Mayor.

Attest: Henry N. Knott, City Clerk.

RESOLUTION
(By Alderman Ryan)

On the Death of William Jennings Bryan.

Resolved by the City Council of the City of Minneapolis:

That the death of William Jennings Bryan has left a vacancy in the list of America's great men and foremost citizens. Lawyer, editor, patriot and statesman, he was held in admiration and affection by the American people, and internationally respected and regarded as one of the world's greatest figures of modern times. During his long and illustrious career, his one great purpose in life was to raise the standard of American citizenship. A true and loyal supporter of the Christian teaching and a true believer in the Heavenly Father, he died at the very prime of life, and even to the last, he stood before the American peopde as one of the greatest statesmen of our day. The last closing days of his life saw him standing in defense of the teachings of his Heavenly Father and for all that was good for his fellow men. His life will be an example for the generations of the future, to brighten the lives in thousands of homes, and make his grave a shrine in a land of happiness, peace and plenty.

Now, be it therefore resolved by the City Council of the City of Minneapolis, that a copy of these sentiments be printed in its official proceedings, and a suitable copy of the same be sent by the City Clerk to the family of the distinguished, departed American leader.

Passed July 31, 1925. O. J. Turner, President of the Council.

Approved August 6, 1925. George E. Leach, Mayor.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES

From the Standing Committee on Efficiency and Economy—

Your committee respectfully recommends that upon the City Engineer's recommendation an increase of $10.00 per month be granted to Madeline McFeely, Senior Clerk in the City Engineer's department, on account of her taking over the duties of a former employe of the department, who retired on a pension, and that the accompanying resolution be passed.

John Peterson, P. J. Pryts, J. P. Ekberg, F. H. Brown, Committee.

Alderman Peterson offered a resolution, as per above report, fixing the salary of Madeline McFeely, Senior Clerk in the City Engineer's department, effective August 1, 1925. (See Resolution.)

Adopted—Yeas, 19; nays, none, as follows: Yeas—Aldermen Hadley, Ryan, Hawley, Sweeney, Fruen Frank H. Brown, Bastis, Peterson, Hanscom, Sheffield, Gisslen, Pearson, Scott, Giebenhain, Pryts, Benson, Ekberg, Robb, Kjorlaug—19.

From the Standing Committee on Efficiency and Economy—

Your committee respectfully recommends that the rules of the Civil Service Commission under the Charter of the City of Minneapolis, adopted November 2, 1920, be amended to read as follows:

Section 5, Rule 2. "No person shall be examined who is not a citizen of the United States and a registered voter of the City of Minneapolis for the year immediately preceding the date of examination, providing, however, that the applicants who have not attained the age of 21 but have been residents of Minneapolis for one year may be permitted to apply for positions and take examinations provided they have complied with other requirements in connection with this rule."

We further recommend that paragraph (a), section 5, Rule 2, be stricken out.

We further recommend that the above rule be so amended without reprinting the whole rule, so as to avoid unnecessary expense.

John Peterson, P. J. Pryts, J. P. Ekberg, F. H. Brown, Committee.

Adopted.

From the Standing Committee on Efficiency and Economy—

Your committee to whom was referred a motion of Alderman Peterson directing the Efficiency and Economy Committee to sit in with the Civil Service Commission for the purpose of revising the rules governing the Civil Service Commission's action of procedure, respectfully report that after careful study of the old rules which have been in operation since the beginning of the Civil Service Commission, we find them to be practical and workable and under their operation political influence has been reduced to a minimum and thus enabling the Secretary of the Commission to render efficient service to the city in the matter of furnishing help to the various city departments. Your committee has also studied the new rule proposed by Commissioner Hunter which proposes to vest the Commission with the power of regulating employment under the jurisdiction of the Civil Service Act. If these changes are made, there can be no doubt in our minds but that the whole system of employment will be thrown into politics; one Commissioner, or another, or the whole Commission dictating as to who shall be permitted to work for the city and in what department. Under such a system of administration, it would be impossible by the foremen and department heads to render a fair service to the taxpayer. Therefore, we recommend to the City Council that the rules be not adopted, and that the City Clerk be directed to notify the Commission of the Council's action.

John Peterson, P. J. Pryts, J. P. Ekberg, F. H. Brown, Committee.

Adopted—Yeas, 14; nays, 5, as follows: Yeas—Aldermen Hadley, Hawley, Fruen, Frank H. Brown,, Bastis, Peterson, Hanscom, Sheffield. Gisslen, Pearson, Giebenhain, Pryts, Benson, Ekberg—14. Nays—Aldermen Ryan, Sweeney, Scott, Robb, Kjorlaug—5.

From the Standing Committee on Fire Department—

Your committee having had under discussion the advisability of discontinuing the Fire Department band, there having been some criticism with regard to the effect on the efficiency of the department when members of the band are playing engagements and the relative value of this organization to the morale of the department, together with the value of the organization as an advertising medium to the City of Minneapolis; the committee believes this band to be a valuable advertising medium to the city, this organization having been sponsored by civic and commercial associations; it plays engagements only when they are not competitive, and are of a civic or community nature such as civic parades, Fourth of July patriotic exercises, for the unfortunates in hospitals and penal institutions on Christmas Day, and many other such affairs, and entails no financial expense to the City of Minneapolis. Your committee being convinced that this organization is an asset to the City of Minneapolis, are unqualifiedly in favor of continuing this organization and do hereby accept full responsibility for the continuance of this band, and respectfully report and recommend that after due consideration of the facts as presented by the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, noted above, the Minneapolis Fire Department Band as conducted in the past be continued.

Your committee respectfully reports that the City Engineer has informed this committee that the Civil Service Commission has informed him that the services of A. M. Larson, Senior Architectural Draftsman, employed on the design and inspection of the new fire and police stations, must be dispensed with October 1, inasmuch as Mr. Larson is working on a permit and that there is now available an architectural draftsman laid off from the School Board. This will delay the completion of the plans for these buildings and hamper the inspection on the building now under construction as it will require the breaking in of a new man. The previous Civil Service Commission certified Mr. Larson, pending examination, but no examination has been held. We respectfully recommend that the City Council request the Civil Service Commission to permit Mr. Larson to continue pending examination and that an examination be given as soon as possible.

SIDEWALK ASSESSMENT ROLLS

From N. W. Elsberg, City Engineer—

Pursuant to resolutions of the City Council, passed during the season of 1925, directing the construction of sidewalks on certain streets and avenues in the City of Minneapolis, for the taxes of 1925, I respectfully report that on certain of said streets and avenues, said sidewalks have been constructed. I therefore submit a list of streets and avenues together with descriptions of each lot and parcel of land, along which said sidewalks have not been built, with my estimation of cost of building said sidewalks along each of said lots respectively. I also submit assessment rolls to defray the cost of constructing sidewalks on such streets and avenues, a list which is given below.

Respectfully submitted,
N. W. Elsberg,
City Engineer.

From Neil M. Cronin, City Attorney—

There is before your Honorable Body the report of the Committee on Street Railways and Buses, containing a proposed settlement of the street railway controversy.

Under date of August 14, 1925, the Council, by motion referring this matter to the committee, initiated negotiations for settlement. After several meetings of the committee, at which Mr. Lowry, president of the street railway company, and counsel for the company, were represented, the committee practically unanimously rejected certain proposals of the company and adopted the basis of settlement contained in the committe report now before your Honorable Body.

I am not satisfied with the decision of the Railroad and Warehouse Commission. I believe it is much more favorable to the company than the facts and the law warrant. It is certain, however, that continuing the litigation in Federal Court and through the Supreme Court of the United States, which will take at least two years' time, furnishes no possibility of the city's bettering its condition in that process, for the reason that the federal courts have no power to reduce the rate. The Federal Court will leave the rate as it is, or raise it.

The Council has evidenced a strong desire to end the litigation and consequent expense by settlement. Apparently the public is not dissatisfied with the rate of fare in force. Under these circumstances, it seems the part of wisdom to effect a settlement, if it can be done without too much sacrifice on the part of the city. I have advised your committee fully on all questions that have been raised. In the main terms of the settlement proposed by the committee I believe that it has gone to the utmost in making concessions, and I do not see how the company could possibly refuse to accept the basis proposed.

It goes without saying that no proposal by the city will be accepted by the company unless it has the genuine support of the Council. Division in the Council, or half-hearted support on the proposal, is an open invitation to the company to reject it. It is my belief that the City Council can effect a settlement on the proposed basis if it so desires.

As yet no official action has been taken by the Council, while the company has submitted a proposal by its president, who has also appeared before the committee. I believe it is necessary that the Council take some definite action now or it will be subject to the criticism already made that the company has never been able to get a proposal of settlement from the city. The trial in federal court begins October 27 and it will soon be too late to negotiate.
